

CREATE YOUR OWN MAGICAL STORY

You can take writing inspiration from anywhere! The picture below was taken by David Wolstencroft, author of The Magic Hour, in his home. Could it be a glimpse into a magical shadow world?

What might you find there? Either using David's picture or using shadows on your own walls, think about what might be happening in this magical world and who might be there.

The Magic Hour is all about time, so give yourself 10 minutes to write down whatever comes to mind about your magical world in the space below.

