

Think about change

The habitats of animals are always changing. Some kinds of animals have been on Earth for a very long time. They have adapted to changes. Other kinds of animals have died out. Why?

The first turtles lived millions of years ago. Today, sea turtles are in danger of dying out.

Look at these animals.

Look at these animals.

Which one has survived?
Which one died out?

Which one might be better at adapting to changes?
